DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 6/30/2008 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1, 3-16, and 18-30 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Klatz et al. (5,709,654) in view of Nicholson et al. (6,249,717). Klatz discloses most of the limitations recited in the claims listed above (see previous rejections) but fails to explicitly teach wherein the vent ports (68, 69) are covered by a hydrophobic material that inhibits the passage of liquids and permits the passage of gases therethrough. Klatz does disclose that the ports are designed to allow for the passage of gases therethrough. Nicholson discloses a medication dispenser which includes a vent port (84) which is covered by a hydrophobic material and allows for the passage air while preventing the passage of liquids into parts of the device containing the electrical components. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the vent ports of Klatz with the hydrophobic material disclosed in Nicholson to make an infusion device that still had the ability to vent oxygen but also provided the extra benefit of preventing liquid damage to internal electrical components.

Art Unit: 3763

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 3-16, and 18-30 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
